Washington, July 23 .- The state department will make public the following text of the edict delivered today by Minister Wu to Secretary Hay: / Imperial edict issued the first day of the sixth moon, (July 17th.) transmitted by Viceroy Li Kuen Yieh, July 20th, and received by Minister Wu 21st day of July: The present conflict between China and the foreign powers had its origin in a long-standing antagonism between the people and the Christian missions. The subsequent fall of the Taku forts precipitated the meeting of force with force. The imperial government having due regard for the importance of the internal intercourse, still refused to go so far as to interrupt the existing relations. We have already repeatedly issued decrees providing the precaution for foreign legations and also commanded the provincial authorities to protect missionaries. Inasmuch as there is still no cessation of the employment of force, the foreign merchants and subjects residing in China, who form a numerous body of the country, should be protected without distinction We hereby command all Tartar generals, governor-generals, and governors of provinces to look after foreign merchants and missionaries living in open ports, prefectures departments and districts under their respective jurisdiction and afford them due protection in accordance with the treaty stipulations' without fail. Last month we heard $ with profound astonishment and regret of the killing of Chancellor of the Japanese 'egation, Mr. Akira, and same fate befell the German minister shortly afterward. The violent "reresidence at the capital was necessary to the transaction of business between the two countries, affected us very deeply.
